

Dear Sir:

I am outraged at the decision by Sinclair to pre-empt regular programs in order to air a film, which is clearly unadulterated pre-election propaganda. Prior to this decision, television has acted reasonably responsibly to stay away from yellow journalism (not even FOX has gone to this length) or at least, as in the case of advertisements, to show opposing opinions. Sinclair is a prime example of how Corporate ownership of the media is suffocating journalism. Over 50 percent of American citizens are disgusted with the Bush Administration's corporate plutocracy. Please do not allow the FCC to become a part of this endemic corruption. Robin winick
